San Antonio Homebuyers Will Save Using New Custom Builder Network

Custom Builders USA (CBUSA) has formed a new network for Custom Builders in San Antonio. This nationally prestigious management company achieves positive economies of scale by developing and maintaining powerful, local networks of professional builders, vendors and national manufacturers to achieve lower costs, higher levels of service and increased productivity.

The newly launched venture will be named CBUSA – San Antonio, and consists of some of the area's top custom home builders. This elite group of builders will combine its purchasing power in order to partner with San Antonio's best suppliers, distributors and manufacturers to offer homebuyers a superior product at more competitive pricing than could be offered individually.

Dale Sauer, Owner and President of Dale Sauer Homes and Chairman of CBUSA – San Antonio is excited to introduce this proven builder network to the San Antonio Area and stated:

“This new builder group's combined purchasing power will allow us to obtain similar pricing to that which is typically only reserved for large volume national builders. The savings we can pass on to the home buyer will be substantial.”

Darrel Weidner, Regional City Manager of CBUSA said that the mission of CBUSA is to develop long term relationships that will benefit all associated builders, vendors and manufacturers.

“We recruit the most professional custom home builders in each market area. We look for the builders that have outstanding reputations in the marketplace, and have earned the respect of their peers. This group represents just that—the most reputable custom home builders in the San Antonio area,” Weidner said.

CBUSA—San Antonio is looking to add to its growing network of builders and vendors, and is in the process of reviewing the qualifications of both builders and vendors of distinction.
